

The Great May Sales

Accessories—on first floor—displays of Parasols, Gloves, Hosiery, Neckwear, Bags and Jewelry, to appropriately wear with the new dresses, linking some price surprises.

Hats—on second floor—the new hats to be associated with the white dresses, the imported models displayed in private parlors.

To order—on second floor—the making of hats to order, with complimentary prices for the new white hats and the trimmings selected to trim them.

Blouses—on third floor—a display of imported models at $7.50 to $18.50, with adaptations at $1.00 to $5.00.

Skirts—on third floor—the Imported White Skirts at $5.00 to $9.98, with American man tailored reproductions that are superior in some respects, and only $1.00 to $3.98.

Extra—on third floor—samples of the New Blouses and Skirts, offered at the nominal price of 89c.

Silks—second floor—a display of probably the most comprehensive stock of White Silks ever gathered in one establishment in Washington. Paris novelties included at the prices, $1.25 to $4.50 yard.

Wool Fabrics—second floor—white in every phase of materials for summer dresses, all pure wool, for as little as 39c and no more than $1.85 yard.

Cotton fabrics—second floor—including filmy imported tissues of Egyptian cotton up to $2.00 yard and American reproductions for as little as 10c yard.

Laces—first floor—a new $20,000 stock, including such price surprises as 85c yard for 24-inch Wide Shadow Laces.

Embroideries—first floor—including the maker's samples, in 4 1/2-yard lengths, among which are 27-inch Wide Flouncings, worth to $2 yard, at 59c yard, for choice.

LE CARNAVAL DE LINGERIE

Introducing the new Tango Garments, Appenzell Motifs, the "Fig Leaf" Drawers, the "En Dis-habille" Gown, in conjunction with "Corsetless" Combinations, Bloomers, Underbodies, Princess Slips, Skeleton Skirts, etc.

Complimentary Prices for Tomorrow as Follows:
50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.50, $1.98, $3.50 to $25.00

—for Garments Standard at 75c and Various Prices to $30.00.

Miss Hirsh, the Palais Royal department chief, famous as an authority, presents this word picture—"The new 'Corsetless' Combinations include very attractive new models in crepe de chine, having the entire bodice made of soft, hand-embroidered net, finished at the top with torchon lace, drawn ribbon, which also forms the shoulder straps, and small chiffon flowers. Other models show the bodice made of all-over printed crepe de chine in very small flower patterns, the balance of the garment being made of plain fabric to match the general shade. Other novelty styles are made entirely of very fine net, which is trimmed with soft pleated shadow lace, ribbon bows and small flowers.

Silk Bloomers—these new garments are shown in both knee-length and extending to the ankle. The new models are shown with elastic waistband, which is adjustable to a figure of any size, and they are usually finished at the knee with fancy shirring, ribbon bows and ornaments.

The ankle-length bloomers have frilled or pleated shadow lace or net extending from the knees to the ankle. These new garments are of crepe de chine or Italian.

Underbodies are of fine lace, with inserts of medallions of lace, or hand-embroidery, finished with banding and drawn ribbons; others made of chiffon and crepe de chine.

Gowns show a continuance of the effect of very short kimono sleeves, elaborate trimming on the bodice, with a slash and ribbon bows at the bottom. A marked change from the elaborately trimmed gown is noted in the appearance in some of the new lines of a model which is fashioned entirely on Greek lines, and which has no other trimming than very fine hand-hemstitching. These new gowns are being shown in only a very fine quality of crepe de chine, in white, or the new flesh color, or in very fine handkerchief linen. These new garments will attract the attention only of the very exclusive trade, on account of the severe simplicity of the style, and, nevertheless, high prices.

Princess Slips are of light, sheer fabrics, such as crepons, crepe de chine, Japonica and nain-sook. These materials are shown in white, pink, light blue, yellow and flesh color.

A very effective model in a princess slip is shown made on the lines of a corsetless chemise. It hangs low on the bust line with ribbon shoulder straps. The entire bodice is made of all-over shadow lace net and the bottom of the skirt is finished with a wide flounce of pleated shadow lace. This very clever garment is designed to answer the purpose of three distinct garments—an underbody, a princess slip and a petticoat. It is predicted that, with the advent of the warm weather, with the usual increase in the use of lingerie dresses, this combination style of princess slip will become very popular. Displayed on third floor, in conjunction with the "Tango" and other new novelties.

The Hair

A potent factor without newly correct "high hair" will not the hat be a failure?

Madam Moeller, late of New York, an authority with few peers, now presides over the Palais Royal Parlors—the balcony of the first floor.

Consult her—appointment by phone if desired—No. 8780.

A visit tomorrow will be opportune—a sale of Hair is to be associated with unusual prices.

Switches, $5, $3.50, $2.49, $1.49

Guaranteed $2.50 to $7.50 Values.

Their fault, from the viewpoint of Madam Moeller, is their virtue, from your viewpoint. It is this—the stock of Switches is too large, many shades of hair being duplicated.

Prices are to be reduced tomorrow—to "lower the stock."

For you it means choice of vast quantity and variety and prices less than have been or will be.

75c Miscellaneous Hair, 49c

Pompadours worth $1.00 and up are to be 49c. Transformations and "Kiss" Curls worth $1.50 and up are to be 75c.

To avoid overcrowding the Balcony Parlors, tables will be filled on first floor, near Eleventh street door. Make selections there—and then consult Madam Moeller on the Balcony.

Girls' Shop White Sale

$100,000 Worth of Furniture

—At the Least Prices of Many Years.

The building of a Greater Palais Royal and the tearing down of the great north wall of the present building—300,000 bricks have to be removed—may cause some confusion and dust. This probability and the ambition to open the new store with an entirely new stock of Furniture and Upholstery Goods are the reasons for reductions in prices greater than ever before.
